Alex Haunty Receives a National Broadway League Award Star of Touring Broadway

Two Surprises

At a special celebration in May 2018, Alex surprised retiring Overture Center President and CEO Ted Dedee with a special gift, a giclée print of Alex's painting, Take a Bow. The original was commissioned by the Overture Center and hanging on their wall. He wanted to thank Mr. Dedee for all his support to Alex as an artist.

Mr. Dedee then surprised Alex by presenting him "The Star of Touring Broadway", a national award given by the Broadway League to honor those who have supported and enriched the Broadway Series in their hometowns. Thank you Overture Center for nominating Alex.

Inspiring the Community

It was a fun day, Dec. 12, 2018, when Alex delivered "Inspiring the Community" to Sandra Gajic, the new President and CEO at the Overture Center. Alex painted this painting because he feels at home at the Overture Center and they embody the word community to him. "We can inspire a lot of people if we work together as a community."

AHTAFI continues to give adults with disabilities a memorable experience with the theater

Seeing Les Misérables

It was a privilege to host more than 25 young adults with disabilities along with their supporters to see a Broadway production of Les Misérables at the Overture Center. This is a story of overcoming hardship, extending forgiveness and finding victory. It encouraged everyone. After the show we celebrated with a post-party reception in the Promenade Lounge. It was a full and fun Sunday afternoon at the theater.

The Nutcracker

Nothing helps celebrate the holidays as well as going to see The Nutcracker at the Overture Center. We hosted the Inspiring Hope Ministry workshop participants and their supporters to this popular, ageless ballet of dreams with a fantastical display of beauty and color.

American in Paris

Fifty young adults with disabilities along with their supporters enjoyed the fun dancing and singing in American in Paris at the Overture Center. In a post-party reception (sponsored by Ed Deutschlander, CEO - North Star Resource Group) several of the actors came and did a talk back session with us. They answered many questions like how they got started and what was it like travel with the show.

Sing! Stomp! Act!

IHM Workshops Continue to Stir Excitement

2018 was our second year to partner with Inspiring Hope Ministries, inviting adults with disabilities to come to pilot workshops where they have fun learning to sing, dance, draw, and do theater and improv. We typically help host an eight-week workshop in the Spring and another one in the Fall. Since we went to see American in Paris at the Overture, we learned songs from the show and colored all kinds of pictures depicting scenes telling the story.

We have found that the workshops not only provide lighthearted fun, but they also help build communication and developmental skills. Parents have reported that our young adults grew in being able to communicate at home in their typical circumstances after participating in our workshops.
